Spring 2015

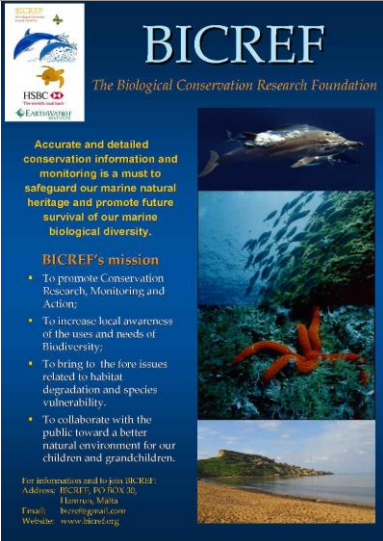

BICREF is an Environmental Organisation (NGO) based in the Maltese Islands.

BICREF's mission:

- Promote Conservation Research, Monitoring and Action;
- Increase local awareness of the uses and needs of Biodiversity;
- Bring to the fore issues related to local habitat degradation and species vulnerability;
- Encourage public collaboration toward a better natural environment for our children and beyond;
- Assist in the management of natural environments for Conservation.

Please visit our web site (WWW.BICREF.ORG) and write to us on our email BICREF@GMAIL.COM

The aim of this catalogue is to encourage supporters to purchase any of these goods, and consequently help fund BICREF attain its stated mission.

Dolphins in Maltese Waters Poster Size A2 Dedicated to the Year of the Dolphin 2007 and 2008: Common Dolphins Full colour and glossy finish	 Dolphins in Maltese Waters Various species of dolphins live in our sea. So when you do get to see them keep your boat at least a 100m away and attempt approach if they wish. Dolphins are legally protected by local and international laws, so local research and monitoring is necessary to make sure these laws have ways of effectively protecting these lovely creatures in their home, our sea. BICREF members assist the local research project that was launched by Dr. Adriana Vella in 1998. BICREF also works to increase local awareness on the real needs of these species. Their presence and abundance are indicators of conditions of our seas. Year of the Dolphin Photo of Common Dolphins (Delphinus delphis) in Maltese waters by Adriana Vella, Ph.D. This species is endangered in the Mediterranean Sea. BICREF website: www.bicref.org	€ 2
